

Russians May Block West Berlin Exports

Blockade Lift Reveals Red 'Joker'

Berlin, May 12—(AP)—American officials said today a Soviet "joker" apparently has turned up in the Big Four agreement which resulted in the removal of the blockades in Germany.

Land traffic flowed smoothly into western Berlin with the lifting this morning of Soviet barriers established last June. The people celebrated.

As the day progressed, however, it became clear the Russians would not permit German trucks to leave this city for the western zones of Germany without either a Russian stamp or one from the Soviet-backed German eastern economic branch. Western Berlin is separated from the rest of western-occupied Germany by 100 miles of Soviet-controlled territory.

Keep Them On "Charity"

If Soviet authorities enforce their claim to authority over western Berlin's exports they could keep 2,000,000 residents of the American, British and French sectors of the city on a basis of "virtual charity," said Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley, American commander here. He declared western Berlin "must export to the west to live" and added:

"The American and British airlift can meet any emergency now—it can keep some exports moving out—but the airlift isn't intended to go on forever."

Despite this seeming hitch, 250,000 Berliners poured out of their homes and attended two giant rallies celebrating the end of the blockade. Even the old, the young and the crippled turned out. Schools and most business houses closed.

The very size and existence of the two rallies and the tone of the speeches delivered at each one gave evidence of the bitter division existing between communists and anti-communists.

Still Split City

Berlin still was a split city with two separate municipal administrations. However, all police controls on freedom of movement inside the city had disappeared overnight. Berliners could travel anywhere in the city without risk of police search. Western and Soviet-licensed newspapers once again were sold freely in the rival sectors.

The Soviet blockade of western Berlin and the western allies' counter blockade of the Russian zone of Germany were lifted on schedule all along the 1,000-mile German cold war front.

For the American and British airlift crews it was just another day. They kept flying supplies into Berlin at the rate of nearly 500 tons an hour and expected to keep on doing so for another 30 days.

The western powers seek both replenishment of the depleted stocks of western Berlin and time to measure Russia's intentions. Those intentions are expected to become clearer when the four-power foreign ministers' conference on Germany opens in Paris May 23.

Policeman States Rutledge's Version Of Hotel Battle

Cedar Rapids, Ia., May 12—(AP)—A police officer today quoted Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., on trial for his life, as saying that he took a knife away from Byron C. Hattman during a fight and made "passes" at him with it.

The next day the doctor knew that Hattman lay on the floor, the policeman said.

The 28-year-old pediatrician from St. Louis was quoted as saying he suffered a broken nose and black eye in the fight, which resulted in the fatal stabbing of Hattman. The fight occurred last December 14 in Room 729 of the Roosevelt hotel here.

The state claims that Rutledge, charged with first degree murder, slew the 29-year-old St. Louis aircraft engineer in a fight over Hattman's attentions to tall, willowy Mrs. Sydney Rutledge, 23. The defense says Hattman "seduced and debauched" Mrs. Rutledge after "plying her with liquor."

Man With Saw Blacks Out Town

Woodbridge, N. J., May 2—(AP)—Police today sought a man with a saw—somebody cut down a power pole last night.

The downtown area was plunged into darkness when a light pole was cut down last night.

Residents there reported seeing a man with a saw saunter through the street just before the pole fell.

'Positively Identify' Stowaway As Eisler

Washington, May 12—(AP)—A stowaway aboard a Polish ship en route to England was "positively identified" today as the missing Gearhart Eisler, 33, alleged No. 1 communist in the United States.

U. S. Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller told newsmen there was no question about the identification.

Miller said Scotland Yard detectives are waiting for Eisler's ship, the Gdynia-American liner Batory, to dock at Southampton, England. It is due there Saturday.

Justice department officials immediately opened an investigation into Eisler's disappearance. The Batory sailed from New York six days ago.

Eisler—if it is indeed he—skipped the country under two full sentences—a one-year term for contempt of congress and a one-to-three year sentence for concealing his communist connections in applying for a permit to leave the United States.

He had been free on $23,500 bail pending his appeal from both convictions. The civil rights congress raised Eisler's bail. It stands to forfeit.

3 Get Awards For Outstanding Work In Fire Prevention

New York, May 12—(AP)—A Staten Island, N. Y., daily newspaper, a Lapeer, Mich., weekly and a radio station in Fort Wayne Ind., today won the gold medal awards of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

The awards of medals or $500 in cash are for outstanding public service in fire prevention.

The Staten Island Advance won its medal for "intensive and dramatic news coverage of fire prevention fire department and clean-up activities throughout the year."

A three-year campaign by Bob Myers, 27-year-old veteran and farm editor of his father's Lapeer County Press, aimed at getting fire trucks for unprotected rural areas, won the medal for the Michigan weekly.

The board said Myers printed numerous pictures of burning farm houses, campaigned for firetrucks in local elections and posted money to assure response of city fire trucks to rural fires.

Judge A. L. Reeves Rebukes Lawyers In Coplon Trial

Washington, May 12—(AP)—Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves today sternly rebuked counsel for "childish" antics in the 14-day-old espionage trial of Judith Coplon, 27, former justice department analyst.

Judge Reeves admonished both defense attorneys Archibald Palmer and government prosecutors to "get on" with the case.

The trial has been virtually stalled since Monday by constant bickering between opposing lawyers and by Palmer's long-drawn questioning of a single witness, FBI Agent Brewer Wilson.

"Somewhere along the line," Judge Reeves observed wearily, "we ought to be able to try this case without all this quibbling."

Miss Coplon is accused of fletching government secrets "with intent" to aid a foreign power, Soviet Russia. She was arrested in New York last March 4 along with Valentine A. Gubichev, 32-year-old Russian, a former United Nations employee.

ICC Grants Bell Temporary Boost Of Phone Rates

Chicago, May 12—(AP)—Illinois Bell Telephone company today was granted a temporary rate increase—but the amount was less than one-quarter of the $34,100,000 the company had asked for.

The Illinois Commerce Commission gave the utility permission to raise its rates $7,600,000—just enough to cover increased expenses incurred because of taxes on those raises.

In addition, the commission provided the $7,600,000 hike should be proportioned on an annual basis, but be effective only until Oct. 10, 1949.

Today's action affects some 2,500,000 subscribers, 1,500,000 of them in Chicago and the remainder in approximately 600 other Illinois communities.

The company president, G. E. McCormick, immediately issued a statement saying "we have not seen the order, but the amount as reported is completely inadequate to cover our present emergency needs."

Removal Of Jap Plants As Reparations Halted By U.S.

Washington, May 12—(AP)—The United States abruptly called off further deliveries of reparations by Japan today in a new step toward restoring the Japanese to self-support.

An order to Gen. Douglas MacArthur ended preliminary transfers of machine tools and other industrial equipment which have been turned over to four of the wartime Pacific allies over the past two years.

At the same time, Gen. Frank R. McCoy, the American representative, made plain in announcing the action to the 11-nation far eastern commission that the United States will oppose any proposal to revive reparations payments. It can block action on any such proposal in the policy making commission with a veto.

Some 20,000 machine tools stripped from Japanese war plants have been turned over to China, the Philippines, The Netherlands and Britain.

Miller said today a new exchange of messages had established that the stowaway's birth date and birth place "correspond to our records of the birth date and place of Eisler."

Miller commented: "One would wonder how he got on the boat. It's a strange procedure. If he got on surreptitiously, he may have gotten hungry and so been discovered."

Testifies Every Red Diplomat Has Spy Responsibility

Washington, May 12—(AP)—Kerill Alexeev, former Russian embassy attache in Mexico City, testified today that every Soviet diplomat has a spy responsibility to carry out.

Alexeev told a Senate Judiciary subcommittee that Russian spy operations are "very highly developed in the United States by the Soviet embassy" and by the embassies of Russia's satellite countries.

He said the NKVD, the Soviet secret police, sends out agents who usually serve as the embassies' first secretaries. Even the ambassador, he said, is subordinate to the NKVD man in matter of espionage.

Alexeev said he broke with the Kremlin because he "does not approve Soviet policy and no longer wants to be a citizen of the U. S. S. R." He quit the Soviet embassy in Mexico, where he was commercial attache, in 1946 and now works as an engineer in New York.

The witness also testified that "not less than 50 per cent" of the non-diplomats who come to the United States from Russia and the Soviet bloc nations are obligated to do spy work.

West Allies Okay Germany's Charter With Reservations

Frankfurt, Germany, May 12—(AP)—The three Western Allies approved tonight with several reservations the draft constitution for a new West German federal republic.

At the same time the Americans, British and French announced they had put into force an "occupation statute," or interim peace treaty, for 45,000,000 Germans in the western occupation zones.

This was swept away on the allied side all objections to formation of a German government, which will be open to the Soviet zone if free elections are held in the Soviet area.

The western powers may propose at the foreign ministers' council in Paris opening May 23 that the draft constitution be used as a basis for an all-German government—provided free elections are held in eastern Germany.

The constitution was signed by the military governors of the United States, Britain and France.

'Mad Dog' Killer's Execution Stayed By Gov. Stevenson

Chicago, May 12—(AP)—The doom that awaited James Morrelli, 22-year-old convicted murderer, was thrust aside, at least temporarily, today when Governor Stevenson postponed his execution until Aug. 12.

Morrelli, convicted of the "mad-dog" slaying of Emil Schmeichel, Dec. 12, 1947, received news of the stay of execution in stunned silence. The young killer was to have been put to death in the electric chair at county jail early Saturday.

When he was finally able to talk, Morrelli asked what the stay of execution meant. Warden John H. Cranor explained that Morrelli's case was to be reviewed by the state board of pardons and paroles on July 12.

The youth's attorney, Charles Bel-lows, told Morrelli it was possible for the board to recommend to the governor that his sentence be committed to life imprisonment or possibly less.

Conservatives Winning

London, May 12—(AP)—Early unofficial returns showed tonight that conservatives had piled up new gains in big city elections in England and Wales. The elections are for borough councils.

Eight U. Of Kansas Students Injured During Stag Week

Lawrence, Kas., May 12—(AP)—Eight University of Kansas students were injured in a riotous "stag week" demonstration last night.

The dean of men was doused with water and sorority houses were damaged as students battled back and forth.

None of the students was injured seriously, although four remained in the university hospital today for further treatment.

The ruckus started over a difference of opinion about college dating rule. Proponents of a "stag week" started the protest Wednesday by decreeing men students would not date co-eds until Friday night.

Last night cars of the "stag week" leaders cruised through the sorority house district and found men defying their decree. Fights started. Some sorority houses were invaded and water doused on furniture. The co-eds "shot" with water pistols.

Lawrence police said about 1,000 persons were involved. But Dean of Men L. C. Woodruff said only "40 or 50" took part in the melee. Another 250 were onlookers, he said.

Coastguardsmen Search For Plane In Lake Michigan

Chicago, May 12—(AP)—Coast guardsmen scouted Lake Michigan off the north suburban shoreline today for airplane parts in their search for clues to determine the fate of a missing Iowa couple.

An airplane wheel and a piece of wood, which coastguardsmen believe may be part of a plane's altar, were found today.

The couple, Jack Russell, 22, and his wife, Marilyn, 22, of Humboldt, left the lake front airport on North Island May 1 with only 12 gallons of gasoline and under adverse weather conditions.

A tugboat crew found the wheel floating south of Wilmette, a north shore suburb, and hauled it in. The wheel was labeled "Aerona." The type of ship flown by the Russells. The crew notified the coast guard which sent a boat from the Wilmette station to the scene.

Coast guardsmen found the piece of wood about two miles from where the wheel was found. Fragments of heavy, red-painted cloth were fastened to it, and it was believed to be part of a plane.

Group Seeks More Military Teamwork With Less Expense

Washington, May 12—(AP)—More military teamwork—at less cost—was called for today in a bill approved by the Senate armed services committee.

The measure adopted by a 12 to 1 vote is intended to tighten up and correct "certain weaknesses" in the 1947 unification act which brought the three services under a single head for the first time.

Here's what the committee measures would do:

1. Set up standard accounting and fiscal systems throughout the military establishment, with civilians in charge of spending and budgets.

2. Raise the present national military establishment to full cabinet status, with the secretary of defense given greater specific authority to "direct and control" the army, navy and air forces.

3. Create a permanent chairman for the joint chiefs of staff—the military heads of the three services—who would be the nation's top ranking uniformed officer.

Stevenson Orders Auto Budget Cuts Wherever Possible

Springfield, Ill., May 12—(AP)—Governor Stevenson today ordered new car budget cuts wherever possible but blamed his "whitewall" headache on the republicans.

The democratic governor said he is "as anxious as anyone to correct any abuses or extravagances" in state-owned automobiles.

But he said that many of his budget requests for new cars are "justifiable," and that most criticism by republican senators and newspapers is caused by "too expensive cars we inherited" from the republicans.

Stevenson's entire billion and a quarter dollar biennial budget is stymied in the legislature by a republican threat to chop out a million dollars for new cars and to put a time bridge on state spending.

The republican senate leader, Wallace Thompson of Galesburg, told a reporter he would demand that no more than $750,000 be spent for new state cars in the next two fiscal years.

He said the GOP majority in the senate will use its 3-1 voting edge to force the democrats to "justify requests for every single car" and will insist that only small, low-priced cars should be bought.

U.S. Acts To Keep Surplus 1948-Crop Grains On Farms

Washington, May 12—(AP)—The government acted today to keep surplus 1948-crop grain on farms so that it won't interfere with marketing of this year's prospective big crops.

The agriculture department offered farmers 8 to 11.5 cents a bushel to keep in farm storage about 275,000,000 bushels of small grains soon due to be turned over to the government under its 1948 price support program.

A similar offer covering more than 400,000,000 bushels of corn is expected to be announced soon.

The effort to hold surplus grains is made at a time when officials fear there is not enough space—particularly commercial facilities—to handle the prospective big supplies.

A shortage of space would weaken the price support program for new crops, officials said, and possibly cause greatly depressed prices after harvest. Only grain in acceptable storage is eligible for price support.

House Kills Bill For 60 Hour Week For State Firemen

Springfield, Ill., May 12—(AP)—A 60 hour work week for downstate firemen failed to win approval today in the Illinois House.

The proposal received only 30 of the 77 votes required for passage when the roll call was halted by the sponsor and further consideration was postponed.

Rep. Felix E. Wilson (D-Clinton) said his bill would put an end to the 84 hours a week which downstate firemen average each week on the job. Such a schedule is unreasonable, he said.

Opponents replied that cities would have to hire more firemen, and that there is no money to do it.

Rep. John W. Lewis (R-March) criticized the bill because it lacked provisions for raising revenue to meet the higher costs.

House Of Commons Ratifies Treaty

London, May 12—(AP)—The House of Commons overwhelmingly ratified the North Atlantic treaty tonight. The vote was 333 to 6.

Canada was the first of the 12 to ratify the treaty. Belgium's senate approved it today.

Only the two communist members of the house and a handful of left wing laborites opposed the treaty.

Battle For Hankow Reported Underway

Shanghai, May 12—(AP)—The Communists inched closer around Shanghai today, being reported only 18 miles distant at one point.

The Reds also were reported attacking the outer defenses of Hankow less than 13 miles north of that great Central-China city, and probing deeper south in the vicinity of Nanchang.

Although the threat to Shanghai appeared no greater than for the past week, nationalist garrison troops began erecting sandbagged guard posts at public buildings and police stations.

All central government departments still in Shanghai were ordered to leave within two weeks.

The garrison reported its defenses were holding firm at Shihhutang, a

55,000 Unionists Strike In Protest Over Man's Death

New York, May 12—(AP)—A slain labor organizer was buried as a martyr today as 55,000 of his fellow union members quit work in a vast four-hour public protest.

More than 4,000 persons thronged Manhattan center where funeral services were held for William Luyre, 40-year-old organizer for the AFL International Ladies Garment Workers union.

Other thousands massed outside the flower-banked auditorium to pay tribute to Luyre, stabbed to death last Monday while on a routine organizing mission.

Union leaders said he was murdered by unidentified gangsters "obviously in the hire of non-union sweatshop employers."

The union has offered a $25,000 reward for information leading to the slayers.

Meanwhile, police said they had questioned 400 persons in an attempt to get a lead on the slaying. Witnesses have said they saw three unidentified men flee from the building hallway where Luyre was killed.

Truman To Leave Purge Of Congress To U. S. People

Washington, May 12—(AP)—President Truman disavowed any intention today of seeking to purge Democratic legislators who oppose parts of his program. He said the people will take care of that.

The President made the comment at a newsconference when asked about a statement attributed to him last Monday that there are "too many Byrds in Congress." This was a reference to Senator Byrd (D-Va.) who has repeatedly attacked the administration's spending policies.

Gilbert Harrison, national commander of the American veterans committee told newsmen that was what the President said during a conference Monday. Hearing of the reported remark, Byrd said that if the President tried to purge him, "I'll be on hand when the purging starts."

Mr. Truman did not deny today that he made the statement. But he said the conversation with the veterans' group was confidential.

Police Hunt Young Robber Who Made Victims Undress

Chicago, May 12—(AP)—Police today hunted a young robber who forced two women victims to remove their upper garments either to forestall pursuit or to satisfy a perverted sex impulse.

He tore the upper clothing from one woman when she was too slow in obeying commands while he was holding up one of four cleaning establishments.

Of the $95 total he got from his terrified victims he gave one woman a dollar, saying it was "a good will bond."

"This is for a good will bond," he told Mrs. Lillian Meyers, 28, as he threw the bill on a counter. "Remember, if anybody asks you, this was for a good will bond." Then he fled without taking any money or other.

He threatened to kill her if she did not follow him. He threatened to kill her if she did not follow him. He threatened to kill her if she did not follow him.

Touche Off Opposition In Congress

Washington, May 12—(AP) President Truman today stuck to his request for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost and anti-inflation powers, touching off sharp new opposition in Congress and business circles.

Mr. Truman told a news conference the two programs he repeatedly has asked are still needed to keep the government from operating in the red and to hold the nation's economy on an even keel.

Then, in reference to a congressional drive to trim federal spending, he said he believes in and has been practicing rigid government economy. As an example, the President said he had cut the national debt about 26 billion dollars, which he said was more than any other chief executive had done.

Boost Necessary

So, he said, the tax boost is necessary to offset a predicted deficit this fiscal year of between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 and to make new payments on the federal debt which now stands at $251,000,000,000.

After these remarks, Mr. Truman left to make a talk to a large group of business executives. Although the White House said this speech was completely "off the record," these others were not:

1. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a national lumbermen's meeting "the greatest failure of the 81st congress is in the financial field." He said that if congress "could cut $3,000,000,000 off expenditures we could avoid a tax increase." But he added he is "not particularly optimistic that it will."

Will Push 5 Per Cent Cut

Earlier Taft had served notice that Senate Republicans intend to press their drive for a five per cent slash in new appropriations despite last night's setback when the "economy bloc" failed to trim that amount off a treasury-postoffice department spending bill.

Shortly after Taft spoke, the House voted to add about $1,500,000 annually to government costs as it approved a measure giving its members $3,000 extra for clerical hire and a $500 allowance for telephone and telegraph charges on official business.

Not a single objection was raised although just before passing the bill the House roundly applauded speeches by two Republican members calling for government economy.

2. Edward E. Brown, chairman of the First National Bank of Chicago told a Senate committee that an administration request for authority to curb the lending powers of banks "is untimely."

"For some months business has been declining," Brown said. "The critical question is how far the recession will go."

He gave this testimony in opposing a move to extend the federal reserve board's authority to control consumer credit two years and to give it permanent power to increase the amount of money banks must hold in reserve as non-lendable funds. Brown, incidentally, is president of the federal reserve system's advisory council.

3 Testify Knetzer Owes Them $56,000 In Car Sales Deal

Springfield, Ill., May 12—(AP)—Three men, who said they invested a total of $268,500 with Robert Knetzer, testified today the fabulous Edwardsville car dealer still owes them $56,000.

They took the witness stand at a creditors hearing in federal court in bankruptcy proceedings against Knetzer.

Knetzer and Arthur F. Kramer of Jerseyville have admitted owing more than $3,000,000 to creditors who paid deposits for cars but never received autos or refunds.

Andy Anderson, Peoria automobile dealer, said he "took a fiver in the deal" and invested

MEAT AND POTATOES

The average housewife who goes to the grocery store and pays 79 cents for a fifteen pound sack of potatoes probably does not realize that there is such a huge surplus of potatoes that the government is having a difficult time figuring out ways to dispose of them. More than 200 million dollars of the taxpayers money has been spent buying up the surplus of the 1948 crop in order to keep the prices up in the grocery stores. This is fine for the potato growers who like it so well they produce more and more potatoes each year. But what about the consumers and the taxpayers? They get in it the neck coming and going.

The congress is now considering a new farm program. Under the bill sponsored by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, which he calls "his bold new plan," consumers are supposed to get the benefit of lower prices and only the taxpayer will suffer the expense of subsidizing the farmers. Under his plan the full supply will go to market and seek out its own price level. If this level is below the government support price, the taxpayer will make up the difference and pay the farmer. While economists have predicted that this scheme might cost tremendous sums, it does appear to be better than the potato situation.

It has been suggested in Congress that Brannan's plan be given a trial next fall on hogs, which are at that time expected to drop below $16.50 a hundredweight, the parity price. There would be no attempt made to hold up the price of pork chops, and in this respect, the consumer would be getting a break which he is not now getting on his spuds.

At the hearings on the proposed bill nearly every farm group is represented. Their lobbyists are active and in all, the farm bloc constitutes one of the strongest pressure groups in Washington. Unfortunately, the taxpayers and the consumers are not similarly organized to present their views on this legislation. We hope, however, that the members of Congress do not forget the fact that every voter is a consumer and nearly every one a taxpayer.

Surgical Advances Made During War Now Save Lives

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.
Written for NEA Service.

Advances in surgery during this century have been amazing. During the recent war they were put into practice on a mass scale. Largely because of them, of 588,000 wounded soldiers who reached Army hospitals, about 96 per cent were saved.

Much of the credit for immediate saving of life was due to giving plasma at the front lines. Without the generous supply of blood furnished by the civilian population during the war this would have been impossible.

Another improvement which was life-saving in its effect was the prompt control of bleeding whenever possible immediately after the wound had been inflicted. The sulfa preparations and penicillin, while they might be classed as medical rather than surgical, were also responsible for stopping many infections and thereby saving many lives.

Burns Numerous
Burns have always been a problem in warfare and were more so in the past war than ever before. Prompt injection of plasma, salt solution and whole blood has brought remarkable results in burn cases.

Also several excellent new methods of treating the skin itself have been developed. By these methods many who would previously have died were saved, and scarring has been greatly reduced.

New and improved surgical techniques have been developed at an amazing rate in such fields as surgery of the nerves, brain, chest and heart, and in the field of skin grafting and plastic surgery. In heart surgery alone, many ingenious operations have been developed. Practically all of them are now used in peacetime practice.

It seems safe to say that in no other country has surgery made such rapid strides as in our own. Surgeons have shown an ingenuity and desire to advance their specialty which cannot be praised too highly.

Note: Dr. Jordan is unable to answer individual questions from readers. However, each day he will answer one of the most frequently asked questions in his column.

THE DOCTOR ANSWERS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

QUESTION: What causes small spots and specks in front of my eyes?

ANSWER: The most common cause are tiny spots, impenetrable to light, floating in a fluid called the vitreous. These are noticed most often when a person stares at the sky or a printed page. A second and rare cause is a mild form of tuberculosis in the same portion of the eye. Another cause is not due to any disease condition but merely to thickening of certain fibers.

Old Covered Wagon To Be Seen Here June 6

One of the original covered wagons which carried many a party of Americans to the far west in the historic gold rush in 1849 is coming to Jacksonville on June 6, it was announced Thursday by the office of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division for Illinois, and Francis R. Rantz, Morgan county chairman.

The covered wagon will arrive here from Quincy, and from this city will go to East St. Louis. It will be prominently displayed in the business district.

Adopted as the symbol of the 49th Anniversary Savings Bonds Drive, which opens May 16 and ends June 30, the covered wagon, which carried the pioneers to the land of opportunity, once again will play an important role in the nation's life.

The ancient vehicle, with its canvas top, which will come to this city, is part of a train of 30 wagons which will tour the country during the Opportunity Drive.

It will be flown to Chicago by the air "boxcars" of the armed services, from Independence, Mo., where it will have been used in the ceremonies in which President Truman will officially open the drive.

All of the 30 wagons will be transported to Independence by way of the air lift from Cedar City, Utah, where they are owned by Mayor Granaway R. Parry, a grandson of one of the 49ers. They are among the wagons which have been used in western movies, and also in recent celebrations of settlement anniversaries in the West.

While on tour here, the old wagon will be transported by a special truck and trailer, one of 30 new units donated by International Truck Division of International Harvester Company and the Fruehauf Trailer Company. It will be "dressed up" in red-white and blue as a Bond sales "booth," and anyone who wishes may buy Bonds from it and receive an appropriate souvenir.

Swindled By A Swindle Sheet

By Hal Boyle

New York.—It is night out and a cold spring rain is falling. And the darkness outside is matched by an equal darkness in my mind.

—Before me on our antique walnut desk (Grand Rapids, Circa 1938) is spread a paper of doom. It is covered with scrawled figures of financial disaster.

Across America at this moment, in homes and hotel rooms, probably 100,000 fellow citizens are staring at similar disheartening documents.

Add they have the same problem I do. They are filling out expense accounts. And what they are trying to do is to reconcile lifelong principles of honesty with a selfish desire to stay out of bankruptcy. The object is to break even. But how can you?

I have just come back from a trip. And where did the money go? For the life of me I can't figure it out. I must have been throwing it away with both hands and kicking it away with my feet. Yet I don't remember renting any dance bands, buying Brooklyn Bridge, or bathing in champagne.

"Expenses Slow Him"
Nor do I recall having been robbed, except in the informal ways customary in an advanced state of civilization. But I can't account on paper for much more than half the money I drew for the trip.

All roving newspapermen and traveling salesmen have the same trouble. Who started this nonsense about calling an expense account a "swindle sheet"? The difficulty is in keeping it from swindling you. With me the point of no return starts when I sit down to fill out an expense account.

Why don't schools prepare a youth for life as it must be lived? I remember frittering away my time in arithmetic and problems like:

"If John sold Jasper four apples for ten cents each and sold Net eight apples at the rate of three for a quarter, how much would he have if Jim didn't buy any apples at all?"

Two classes needed:
—What they should have is a class in how to fill out expense accounts. And the teacher ought to be "Yellow Kid" Weil, the retired confidence man.

There should also be taught two standards of honesty. One would hold in all general dealings with your fellow man. The other, a more elastic standard, would hold in accounting you give to wives and employers.

Only bold men avoid their own money in filling out office "swindle sheets." I recall the day we hit the beaches of Africa with assault troops. That night we all slept in a roadside ditch.

By dawn's early light next morning I espied a newsreel comrade sitting on a rock and typing out his expense account. The opening item

Talk On Mexico Given At Meeting Of Bluffs Club

Bluffs.—The Bluffs Household Science club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wendell Brackett, with Mesdames William Enke, Oliver Chambers and Wayne Haley as assistant hostesses. Present were 28 members and the following guests: Mesdames F. J. Muntman, George Krusa, Cliff Hatch, Grant Gouker.

During the business session the club voted to raise their dues for the coming year. Nine members who had not been absent during the year were presented gifts by the president, Mrs. Edward Alberts. They included Mesdames James Baird, Floyd Hart, J. A. Knoepfel, Charles Krusa, James Parker, Ogden Sears and O. A. Woodson. Nine others had missed once.

Plans were made for the year's closing picnic in June and it was decided to make a trip to Havana to view the acre of pines purchased in memory of Mrs. J. C. Lewis, the club's first president, and another acre purchased and dedicated to Mrs. Emma Thompson, a charter member. The arrangement committee for the picnic includes Mesdames William Morthole, Donald Mullens, B. H. Placke, Ogden Sears, George Smith and J. O. Chambers.

Mrs. Harold Hunter of Griggsville, 20th district president, was a guest and spoke on the splendid work of the Bluffs club and commented on the national convention in Hollywood, Fla. She will attend the state convention in Chicago next week.

The highlight of the afternoon was a talk by Carl Ritter on his recent trip to Mexico. He had on display many interesting articles.

At the close of the afternoon a Mexican style tray lunch was served by the hostesses, with Mrs. Edward Alberts pouring the spiced tea.

Farmer Seeks Goose Eggs For Fun And Profit

New Haven, Conn. — (AP) — Want your lawn mowed? Get a flock of geese, says Lewis Glaser. He calls himself America's "only career goose man."

Besides trimming your grass, the New Haven goose raiser claims they are good watchdogs, honking alarm if some intruder approaches. They look nice on water, he continues, make good companions and need little attention.

But Glaser doesn't slight their more renowned assets. He says geese are hard to beat as far as eating is concerned and that the goose egg looks better on a breakfast table than on a baseball scoreboard.

They are profitable, too. He says a goose raiser can sell eggs or geese. Glaser, who got interested in geese while at University of Illinois Agricultural College, has traveled around the world studying the history and raising of the fowl. He says that while they are a profitable industry in many European countries, they have been neglected in America.

The reason, he asserts, has been the need for natural hatching of the eggs. Glaser says this takes time and, complicated by the goose's six-months laying period, has served to limit the goose business. Attempts to hatch goose eggs artificially have always before ended in failure, Glaser says, because of the eggs' very hard shell and shell-included membrane.

He says he has solved the incubating problem. No new type of incubator is needed, he says. All that's necessary is the right amount of heat and the proper amount of warmth of moisture.

Glaser envisages a tremendous upsurge in the goose business. An output of 75,000,000 geese yearly wouldn't strain the potential market, he says. He elaborates on his idea in a book he has just written, "Successful goose raising."

He says federal departments as well as agricultural colleges and farmers have already expressed interest in the system. During the war, he adds, the Army released him from active service so he could carry forward his research. Glaser says the government was concerned with increasing food production and in using the feathers for lining flight jackets and for other purposes.

More Teachers Sought In Russian Zone

BY KARL HEINZ SCHWAB
Berlin.—(AP)—"A teacher who thinks he is merely a pedagogue and not a political functionary has failed in his task." This statement was made by a Communist education official at a Russian zone teachers' conference recently held in the Russian sector of Berlin.

"Tasks of the new German school" was the subject of this conference, attended by about 250, as the Communist press put it, "democratically minded activist teachers" from all over the zone.

Paul Wandel, president of the Russian zone's Central Education Administration, said there was still one difficulty: the shortage of teachers in the Russian zone.

At a recent Russian zone publishers' conference here, it was revealed that only 20 per cent of the Soviet zone's 80,000 teachers have regular college training. The others are high school graduates, but predominantly workers and farmers who went through six-months' pedagogical courses before going out to teach the children.

It was emphasized at the conference that, to make up at least partly for the lack of teachers, it was necessary to put out as many "politically as well as pedagogically progressive" books as possible for Russian zone schools.

President Wandel announced that also in the future "we shall not abandon taking people from practical life, workers and farmers, and training them for teachers."

But the rightist Liberal Democrats, a Russian zone party lined up with the Communists in the "Anti-Fascist Democratic Bloc," are not enthusiastic. Their official newspaper, "Der Morgen," said the teachers' conference had been "a little one-sided." There had been "less endeavor to exchange experiences than to issue directives," it complained.

Because of Egypt's dry climate, more of the objects used by its ancient citizens have been preserved than those of the ancient citizens of Greece and Rome.

PAKISTAN PROVINCE HAS FOOD SURPLUS

Howe declared recently that for the province the days of foodgrain deficits are over. Former Pastor Dedicates Organ At Ashland Church

Ashland—Dedication of the new pipe organ took place at the Methodist church here during the morning worship service Sunday with the Rev. H. W. McPherson, D.D., pastor of the church at the time it was built and dedicated in 1912, in charge.

The program was as follows: "Noel" (Daquin), "As Jesus Stood Beside the Cross" (Scheidt), "Fugue" (Couperin), Mr. Sheridan; "If With All Your Hearts" (Mendelssohn), and "My Soul Is Afloat for God" (from "The Holy City"), Mr. Cleland; "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" (Bach); "Ave Maria" (Bach-Gounod) and "O Hail This Brightest Day of Days" (Bach), Mr. Sheridan; "At the Cry of the First Bird" (Guion), and "My Hope Is In the Everlasting" (Stainer), Mr. Cleland; solo, "Mother Machree" (O'Connell), Rev. Pushcart Wrecks Auto

Colorado Springs, Colo. (AP)—A pushcart made a 10-mile zip-trip down a mountainside to involve 27-year-old Leslie Kincaid in a strange traffic accident.

The cart, a light affair used by a railroad section gang high in the Rockies, took off on its solo spin from a spot on the other side of Manitou Springs.

The section hands jumped in a car and gave chase along a road paralleling the track on which the cart traveled. But before they caught up with it the cart buzzed through Manitou Springs and into the Western sector of this city, smashing squarely into the small coupe of Kincaid, as the driver attempted to make a grade-crossing.

Kincaid said he saw the cart coming but he underestimated its speed. His coupe took quite a beating. The cart, however, was undamaged.

Joe Dobson has won 47 games for the Boston Red Sox the last three seasons. He has lost 25 during the same span.

ADVERTISE—IT PAYS

ISLAND OF ESCAPE

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

THE STORY: Four lonely women, one of whom may become the bride of Henry Harding, eccentric master of the "New Eden" on Speare Island, and four creeping into their lives for some unexplained reason. Four graves, explained as those of workmen killed by accident; mysterious symbolism of dead fish on the beach, and finally a storm which brings four shipwrecked people to the island. These newcomers include two women, Nona McGuire, Mollie Stark, Fred Sillwell and George Bascombe. Mollie is suffering from an injury to her leg.

HARDING put in, "You were coming to Speare Island, Mr. Sillwell?"

"Speare Island? Isn't this Clari-on Island?"

"No. It is that where you were heading?"

"Sure. To photograph the bird life."

"You missed it well over 500 miles."

Nona McGuire laughed.

"You and that other woman take bird pictures too?" Mabel Jones asked.

"Heavens no," Nona said sweetly. "Miss Stark and I are atmospheric and background. The motion picture industry requires such things you know."

"You're in the movies?" Lilly Warren asked.

"We were able to squeeze in time to make the trip when Mr. Sillwell insisted," Nona said.

Fred Sillwell groaned. "Fifteen thousand dollars worth of equipment gone. To say nothing of the yacht. The insurance won't half cover the loss."

"What happened?" Harding asked.

"We were going along, under a scrap of sail when all at once we were in breakers. I thought I saw an opening and tried to make it. Without the auxiliary we couldn't. We struck, lost the mast, and then we were in calmer water. The Gulf-wing must have been cut wide open forward. She sailed right from under us, just as we made out a cliff against the sky. We're all good swimmers, but I don't ings something to lift the spirits of the people who will work in them."

Through the ages men have used size in their buildings to symbolize the soaring of their minds.

The Tower of Babel was built by men who hoped it would take them to heaven. Many experts believe it was built of brick in stages, one on top of the other. Many such towers were built in Babylon.

The Khufu Pyramid of Gizeh was more than 480 feet high, built in 4,700 B.C. It is the largest of many Egyptian pyramid tombs of kings.

And Egypt was a land which used records for size, but its size is an important factor. Architects of the obelisks, its giant statues of kings, world have been working to make its sphinxes and temples.

This and other United Nations buildings something to lift the spirits of the people who will work in them."

Greeks used proportion and color

rather than size to gain their ends of their work. (Their statues were painted in bright colors

but the Colossus of Rhodes was one of the wonders of the ancient world. This huge statue was said to be 70 cubits tall—more than 106 feet if the Greek cubit was the measure. It was a lighthouse and ships sailed between its feet into the harbor. An earthquake felled it in 224 B.C.

Rome went back to size. The huge

Colosseum was about 170 feet high.

Trajan's column was 100 feet, as was at least one of the great Roman baths. The Romans built big buildings, aqueducts, arches and other monuments all over the empire.

After the Dark Ages, Europe again turned to size in great castle and cathedral towers. It was not until modern times that buildings like that of the United Nations shadowed the church towers.

Modern steel frame structures got their start in the '70s of the last century. A four story building in Indianapolis is believed to have been the first. At first they were not as tall as some of the buildings which got their support from massive ma-masonry. Chicago got a nine story steel frame building in 1883 and one of 14 stories in 1887. In New York the start of the Tower Building of 15 stories in 1888 caused a sensation. It was built on a very narrow lot. The man who owned a building next door sold it and moved out. When an 80-mile gale hit town during construction a crowd gathered to watch it blown down. It didn't.

The next year the Eiffel Tower, built for a Paris exposition, rose to 984 feet. After that steel frame buildings came of age and grew until the Empire State Building in

New York hit a record 1,250 feet.

English Seen As Language Of The Future

By Sherry Bowen
AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York—Can English be the language of the future? Some experts not only believe it can but it is well along the road.

In the centuries to come, some say, English can become a language like Latin in the Middle Ages in which all educated men can understand each other. Only this may be more important because far more of the people are educated.

Nobody knows how many people speak English today. Estimates vary from H. L. Mencken's 175,000,000 to the 1949 World Almanac's 270,000,000. Dr. Albert H. Markwardt, of the University of Michigan, makes a "guess" that 230,000,000 people have English as a native language. That compares with four or five million in 1582.

"It is, however, in its development as a second language that the real opportunities for the future development of English seem to lie," Markwardt says. He says estimates of the number of people using English as a second language vary from 50,000,000 to 125,000,000. But in another century, he says, "we can assume that probably 500,000,000 people will be speaking some form of English either as a first or a second language."

Of international languages such as Basic English and Esperanto he says, "we can only conclude that no one of them has yet been sufficiently successful to justify much confidence in its future."

Dr. Eileen T. Kitchen, associate professor of the teaching of English at Teachers' college, Columbia university, spells that out. She cites one count which shows that the 850 simple words in Basic English have 12,450 meanings when used according to the Basic English rules. And the Oxford dictionary gives 10,516 senses for those same words. In addition, she says, a living language must grow from life. Its words and forms must reflect things and ideas people use.

Here are some of the reasons the experts think English has a chance to spread and possibly to become the international language of the future:

1. It is the native language of two of the world's great powers.
2. It is widely used. It is one of the two working languages in the United Nations. And Dr. Markwardt estimates, for instance, that three-fifths of the world's radio stations broadcast in English.
3. It is widely centered. It is used as a native language on at least four of the continents. Russian, its nearest big rival, is centered on two continents.
4. It is well standardized. The dialects which prevent many Chinese, for instance, from understanding each other are absent.
5. It is already widely taught as a second language. Markwardt says it is replacing French as a second language in Latin America. And its teaching is important in Holland, Scandinavia and even in Russia.
6. New methods of teaching make it easier for men to learn another language. This is expected to help boost the language which already has the advantage and which is native to people with ideas and the prestige of money and power.

"It is now possible," Kitchen says, "for a student who does not know English to come to the United States in June, learn English in two months and enter a university in September." She admits he may have a hard time at first. But after two months' full time work, he can get along in his new language and practice will make his work progressively easier.

Derby Entrants Urged To Study Rule Books

"Study the rule book carefully and make preliminary sketches and designs of your car before you start the actual work of building it," warns Myron E. Scott, general manager of the All-American Soap Box Derby and assistant advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division.

"Unless you are thoroughly familiar with all the rules, you are apt to design and build a car that does not conform," said Scott. "This might mean disqualification after all your hours of work."

The new 1949 rule book, completely revised and up to date, is given all boys at the time they register for the local race. The book is loaded with valuable information and tips on the construction of a super soap box car.

Boys can register at the Cornbelt Chevrolet company, which is sponsoring the race, together with the Journal Courier.

Open to Boys 11-15
Registration is open to all boys in this trade area between the ages of 11 and 15. One of the boy's parents must accompany him at the time he files his application.

Early registration is urged, in order to give the entrants ample time to build their racers to conform with the regulations outlined in the rule book.

Although the actual work on the racer is done by the boy himself, each one will have the guidance of a member of the Exchange club, which is staging the local race to be held here on Sunday, July 17.

Plan Car Beforehand
"It is a very good idea to plan your car before you start building," Scott continued. "Figure it out in your head, then put the details down on paper. If you can make a scale drawing of all the major parts of the car it will save you a lot of trial and error work later."

One of the principal new rules is that which forbids the use of power tools. Scott urged that all contestants live up to this rule in letter and spirit, because it was imposed to give

Managers of industrial plants and others interested in fire prevention and extinguishment are invited to join with firemen in lectures and demonstration.

The instructors will be State Deputy Fire Marshals Rennick and Hutchison.

Ladder and hose evolution will be demonstrated, along with other work in connection with fighting fires. Jacksonville officials hope that the new 100 foot aerial ladder engine, due to be delivered soon by the American LaFrance Foamite Corp., will arrive before the opening of the training school.

Fire Chief Charles Lonergan said Thursday that training school sessions will be held on the afternoons of May 26 and 27, with night sessions if the attendance is sufficiently large.

A number of towns in the Jacksonville area have volunteer fire departments. These men are especially invited to take advantage of the regional school.

Pain and Distress Go Fast This Easy Way

Why continue to suffer when it's so easy to be free from the nagging pain and agony?

When you can so easily get a box of MOVA SUPPOSITORIES — Use as directed and if the pain, irritation and distress are not speedily changed to comfort, ease and quick relief, you can have your money promptly refunded.

Don't continue to suffer when this simple and inexpensive treatment is so conveniently obtained.

WARGA'S WALGREEN AGENCY

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress. But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat.

An exhaustive survey recently made among Illinois druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Over a half million bottles of this preparation, called Renna Concentrate, have been sold in Illinois in the past 2½ years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Renna from any Illinois druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two table-spoonfuls twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

This Year You Can
Beat The Heat

Night Cooling by Means of a Fan

This year you can beat the heat... and sleepless summer nights will be a thing of the past. A night cooling fan is designed to give a complete change of air in a room every two minutes and should not be confused with the ordinary electric fan.

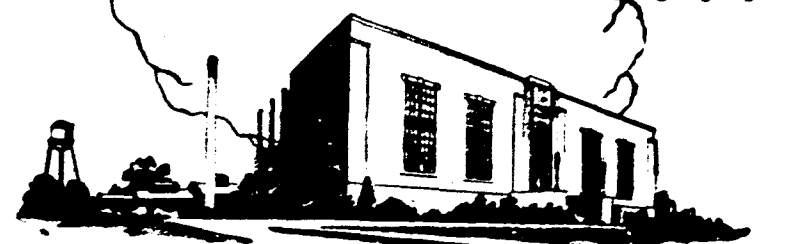

How a night cooling fan works:

All day during the summer, the roof and walls of a building absorb heat. This heat is radiated throughout the home, raising the temperature of the air inside the building. After sunset, the temperature outside begins to lower, and often drops as much as 10 to 15 degrees during the night. However, these lower outdoor temperatures do not help you feel cooler inside your home, unless the cooler air is brought into the rooms. A night cooling fan pulls out the "dead hot air," and it is replaced by the fresh cool night air from outdoors.

See your dealer... find out about a night cooling fan for your home. Electrical power can be supplied by....

Passavant Committee Authorizes Extension Of Utilities To Site

At a recent meeting of the Citizens' Building committee of Passavant Memorial area hospital action was taken approving the construction of sewer and water main extensions to the new hospital site. The committee's action has been reported to the board of trustees and clears the way for the early letting of contracts for this first step in the construction of the new hospital.

D.A.R. National Museum Discussed By Morgan Chapter

Mrs. Robert C. Horner of Petersburg gave an address on the D.A.R. national museum Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter, D.A.R., in the Dunlap hotel.

Mrs. Horner, past state museum chairman, stated that the antiques in the national museum are as old as the D.A.R. itself. The pieces, first housed in the Smithsonian Institute, present a record of the household effects used at the time of the Revolution.

She went on to say that the glass cases in the Illinois museum contain needle work, jewelry, fans and silver. Requests were extended for old books, knives, stiletos, needle work, women and men's costumes, table equipment, kitchen utensils, old coins, musical instruments, maps, candle sticks and cannon balls.

Mrs. Horner was introduced by Mrs. Paul Allyn, program chairman. Mrs. George E. Barker, regent, presided. Mrs. Arthur Ewert, chaplain, gave the scripture lesson and prayer.

Mrs. G. B. Goldsmith led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Don R. Bell and Mrs. W. C. Calhoun, delegates to the national D.A.R. congress, gave an account and showed pictures of the event.

Duets were sung by Mrs. Patricia Potter Dawdy and Richard Mills, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Hecker at the piano. Mrs. Dawdy also sang a solo, which was followed by a duet encore. Mrs. Sara Jane Brown, musical director, presented the vocalists.

Mrs. Paul Black, assisted by Mrs. Lewis Keely and Miss Mabel Withers, conducted the social hour. Tea was served from an attractive table decorated with spring flowers. Mrs. A. F. Ewert and Mrs. R. I. Willard poured.

Two Cars Damaged When They Leave Roads Thursday

Two drivers escaped injury Thursday when they lost control of their automobiles on Morgan county highways. Both cars were considerably damaged.

At 2:45 p.m. Mrs. L. R. Harris of Harris Farms, Alexander, lost control of her eastbound 1947 Pontiac coach as she was leaving the new pavement on U.S. 36 east of Arnold. The car ran into a fence and a telephone pole.

The damaged automobile was towed to DeWitt's garage by the Stubblefield wrecker. During a downpour of rain at 6:45 p.m. a car driven by Edward Hicks of 22 Havendale Court, Jacksonville left the pavement and overturned on U.S. 67 about a mile and a half south of Jacksonville. Mr. Hicks was driving north at the time.

The 1942 Studebaker was towed to the Walker garage. State Highway Officers Staley and Balke responded to the calls.

SELF PORTRAIT FEATURES I. C. EXHIBIT

By Mary Ellen Broge

Miss Barbara Hobbs, assistant professor of art at Illinois College, has included a self portrait in her exhibit of "New Paintings and Sculpture," now on display at I.C. in Tanner library. The portrait is done in grays with a touch of bright red at the waistline. The flesh tones are luminous tints of pale green and pink.

Along Route 104

In the interest of economy the committee recommended that the sewer and water main be laid along the south side of Route 104 to a point, approximately south of the southeast corner of the Rowe farm where it would be laid under the pavement and then diagonally from the northwest direction from the corner of the farm to the site of the new building. State and federal funds will defray part of the cost of running both the sewer and the water main from the southeast corner of the farm to the new building and thereby will result in a net saving of hospital funds over the plan which would have continued the sewer and water main on the south side of the highway to the southwest corner of the farm and thence due north.

The plan calls for an eight inch water main, which will assure enough water pressure for adequate fire protection as well as ordinary hospital needs and for the construction of an eighteen inch sewer along the south side of the highway and a fifteen inch sewer from there to the hospital building.

The building committee also discussed the question of whether the creek which runs through the hospital site from the southwest to the northeast should be rip-rapped and the surrounding area landscaped or whether the creek, for a distance of about five hundred feet, should be enclosed in a large storm sewer. The committee reserved the matter for further consideration.

The matter of constructing a nurses home near the new hospital was also given preliminary consideration by the group. Mr. Range reported that progress was being made by the architect in preparing working drawings for the new hospital.

Mrs. Harold Cully was a guest. Refreshments were served.

Anna C. Newell Of Ashland Dies Thursday Morning

Ashland.—Mrs. Anna Cecelia Newell, wife of James F. Newell of Ashland, died Thursday at 5:15 a.m. at St. John's hospital in Springfield where she had been a patient for one year and a week. She was 83 years of age.

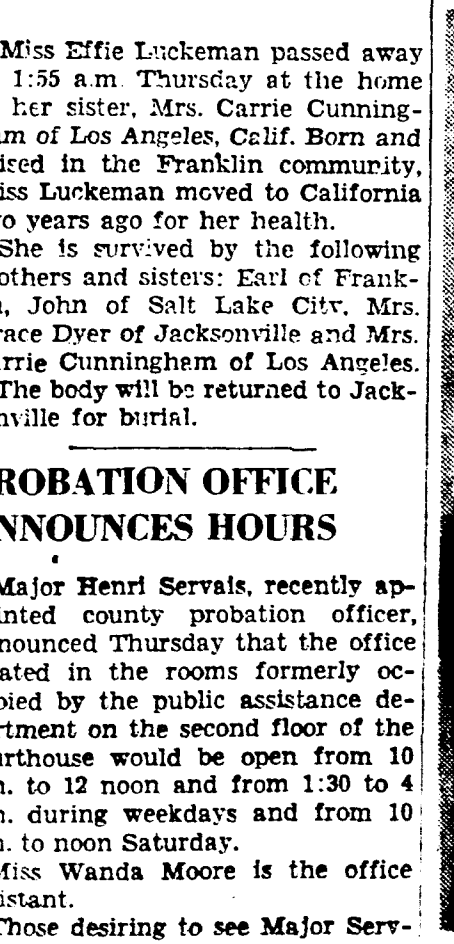

The daughter of Patrick and Margaret Kennedy Butler, natives of Ireland, Mrs. Newell was born in Sangamon county on Dec. 14, 1865. Her marriage to Mr. Newell took place on Jan. 31, 1894.

Surviving are her husband, two children, Mrs. Marjorie Feilhaber of Virginia and Ralph A. Newell of Ashland; two brothers, William and Thomas Butler of Pleasant Plains; one sister, Mrs. Ella McCready of Schuyler, Neb.; and four grandchildren.

The decedent was a member of St. Augustine's Catholic church at Ashland, the Altar society and the American Legion auxiliary. She and her husband had resided in Ashland for the past 10 years, moving there from a farm near the city.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at St. Augustine's church with the Rev. Father Heraty officiating. Burial will be in St. Augustine's cemetery.

HE DIDN'T REFUSE THE CHECK!

Maybe this totally unposed photograph snapped at the Lions club meeting Wednesday night appears that M. R. Range, president of the Passavant Memorial hospital board, is refusing a check for $1,334.81 offered by M. O. Mathews, general chairman of the successful 1949 Lions minstrel.

Mr. Range accepted. More than that, he congratulated the club "for the many times you boys have come to the front for the public interest. This check is larger than any of us expected. I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

The check represented the profit earned by the club in its presentation of the annual minstrel.

I.C. Choir Uses Broadcast Formula In Gala Concert

The Illinois College Choir and its director, Henry Busche, know a hit formula when they see one; and so this year's spring musicale, which was presented to a very congenial audience at the Jacksonville high school auditorium last night, followed the lines that had been developed so successfully in last year's concert.

With a broadcast idea as background, complete with announcer, Bob Falkenberg and his stooges, Ron Allin and Arnie Rosen—the choir held the center of attention during the first half of the evening and was heard in six well chosen popular numbers—"High ho, nobody home" on top of the list.

In the second half the choir, alternating with smaller groups and solo performers, acted out the traditional leaf-raking day which the audience, in a strenuous effort at playing "Let's pretend," viewed via television. Space does not permit our naming all the soloists who did their valiant share in making this part a variety program, so thoroughly enjoyable. Let it suffice that well-known performers, like the IC Quartet and the Philatena Trio, were heard alongside with equally successful newcomers, such as the ballet-dancing team of Juanita Kruger and Robert Kunkel, and Ronald Jessen and Russ Jones in their accordion-guitar act.

Jefferson School To Present Music Festival Friday

"World Friendship Tour" is the theme of the music festival which the students of the Jefferson school will present Friday, May 13, at 2 p.m. at the school. Friends and parents are cordially invited to attend.

The program will include band numbers by the beginners group, the string group and the advanced group under the direction of Mr. Schuetz. Both shows may be seen in Tanner from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday, 7-10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m.-12 noon Saturday and from 2-5 p.m. Sunday.

Woman Pleads Not Guilty To Murder Charge

Mrs. Bertha May Sparks, 72 year old defendant in an indictment charging her with murder, entered a plea of innocent at her arraignment before Judge L. E. Wilhite in circuit court Wednesday.

The woman's attorney, F. A. Reiser of Jerseyville, and State's Attorney Albert Hall were present at the arraignment of the defendant, who is at liberty under bond.

Attorney Reiser's motion for a 60 day continuance of the case was granted by the court.

Mrs. Sparks was indicted in connection with the death of Mack Chaudoin, whose body was found at her home on E. Washington street, where he is said to have been struck with a poker.

The court received a plea of guilty from Bobby Richard Fellhauer, 15 year old East St. Louis boy, charged with the theft of an automobile belonging to the Lukeman Motor Co. The boy asked to be admitted to probation, after which the court appointed Henri Servais as special officer to make an investigation.

Attorneys were appointed by the court to represent several other defendants under indictment.

Divorces in favor of the plaintiffs were granted in the cases of Ruth McGrath vs. James McGrath, desertion, and Glenn D. Williams vs. Marilyn Williams, statutory.

Carlos M. McDaniel Of Chapin Nominated For June 7 Election

State's Attorney Albert W. Hall Thursday confirmed the legality of the Democratic caucus which met at the Dunlap hotel Wednesday night to nominate Carlos M. McDaniel of Chapin to make the race for county commissioner. His Republican opponent in the special election to be held on June 7 will be J. Rex Ranson of Jacksonville.

In reply to a request from County Clerk George T. Douglas, State's Attorney Hall Thursday afternoon sent an opinion to Mr. Douglas stating that the Democratic caucus which selected Mr. McDaniel as their candidate for the June 7, election had proceeded according to law.

His opinion to Mr. Douglas follows: "The question arises as a result of the fact that no Democratic candidate filed for either the special primary of April 12, 1949, or the regular primary of the same date. The appropriate statute states in part:

"In case a candidate who has been nominated under the provisions of the Article 7 shall die before election (whether death occurs prior to, or on or after date of the primary) or decline the nomination, or should the nomination for any other reason become vacant, the managing committee (or senatorial committee in case of a candidate for the General Assembly) of the respective political party for the territorial area in which such vacancy occurs, shall nominate a candidate or candidates of the respective party to fill such vacancies on the ticket."

"The Supreme Court of the State of Illinois has stated 'The nomination become vacant when there is a failure to nominate.' (The Progressive Party vs. Flynn, 401 Ill. 573 at Page 582.)

It is thus my opinion that the Democratic Central Committee can caucus and certify a candidate whose name must be placed on the Special Election ballot on June 7, 1949, and also on the November 8, 1949, Regular Election ballot.

"The law does not prescribe any time when such caucus must be held nor any time by which the name must be certified to your office. 'Respectfully,

"Albert W. Hall."

Harry E. Doolin, chairman of the committee presided at the caucus which was largely attended. Milton Seymour is secretary of the committee.

The chairman announced that Allen Combs of South Diamond street had been appointed committeeman of Precinct No. 10 to succeed the late Henry Meyer.

Ranson was nominated by the Republicans at the primary election. The Democrats had no candidates in the primary for the office of commissioner.

The election is being held to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Witham, who had served one year of a three year term.
